1.4 Political Overview

Bulgaria is a parliamentary republic founded on the principle of the division of powers, which are divided into legislative, executive and judicial branches. The Constitution is the supreme law of the country and the head of state is the President.

The legislative power is entrusted to the National Assembly which is empowered by the Constitution in order to pass statutory acts and resolutions, to exercise parliamentary control, to adopt declarations, etc. The executive power is a prerogative of the Council of Ministers headed by a Prime Minister, who is elected by the National Assembly as well as the Cabinet. The Council of Ministers adopts and promulgates acts of delegated legislation (decrees, ordinances, regulations, resolutions and instructions) and is entitled to initiate the adoption of laws by drafting, deliberating and forwarding bills to the National Assembly. The judicial branch is comprised of judges, prosecutors and investigating magistrates, with the Supreme Judiciary Council in charge of its self-administration and organisation. In addition, the Constitutional Court reviews the constitutionality of laws and statutes and provides binding interpretations of the Constitution.

Bulgaria is a member of the European Union since 2007 and of NATO since 2004.

The record date for shareholder meetings is 14 days prior to the meeting date.

The record date for rights issues is not later than 14 days after the shareholders meeting's decision to increase the capital; when this decision is made by the management body – not later than seven days after the rights issue notice has been published in two national daily newspapers and the issuer's website.

8.3 Sources of C/A Information

Following the introduction of MiFID, there has been no centralised source of information on corporate actions. The official sources are the Companies Register, the announcements made by the public companies on their internet sites and through the information providers they have selected, the Daily Bulletin of BSE and the public register of the FSC.

8.4 Local C/A Specifics

- Participation in voluntary events is usually subject to the submission of subscription forms and supporting documents, which must be duly legalised and translated into Bulgarian and submitted via a local investment intermediary.
- Annual general shareholders' meetings are to be held within six months after the end of the reporting year.
- As entitlements are based on actual settled positions, any loss of entitlement due to late settlement is to be resolved with the assistance of Central Depository AD or directly between the counterparties when they have instructed the CSD not to initiate any market claim procedures.
- Public companies and debt issuers shall make dividend, interest and principal payments through Central Depository AD, i.e. CDAD is the central paying agent for these securities registered at the depository.
- For government securities it is the BNB acting as paying agent.

9. PROXY VOTING

9.1 General Characteristics

Voting entitlements are based on actual settled positions at CDAD as of the record date. Shares are not blocked before, during or after the record date or the meeting date. The record date for shareholders' meetings is 14 days prior to the meeting date.

Proxy voting is executed upon presenting a power of attorney that meets certain local legal requirements. The power of attorney must be separately provided for each meeting and for each account. Partial and split voting for omnibus accounts is possible and instructions must be contained in one and the same power of attorney. To vote on behalf of a shareholder, the authorised representatives should physically attend the meeting and present the Power of Attorney and documents proving the commercial registration and representative power of the shareholder. The legislation provides for the possibility of electronic voting and voting by correspondence, whereby the shareholder directly contacts and instructs the company; however, most issuers do not provide for such options.

9.2 Announcement

General shareholders meetings announcements must be made at least 30 days before the meeting date via the Commercial Register, providing all legally required details such as date, venue, agenda, proposed resolutions, required documents, etc. FSC, the Stock Exchange and the general public must also be notified of the meeting announcements within the same deadline.

9.3 Voting Process

The standard documents required for proxy voting are:

- A Power of Attorney that meets the minimum local legal requirements, issued by the securities account holder, in original, notarised and apostilled (or consularised, as applicable);
- List of authorised signatures, notarised and apostilled (or consularised, as applicable);
- Establishment document, notarised and apostilled (or consularised, as applicable) – Court decision for registration, certificate of registration, certificate of current legal status, extraction from the relevant register, etc. – a document that provides evidence for at least the following data: full name of the account holder, country of registration/domicile, registered address, name of the persons authorised to represent, date of issuance.

The required documents need to be provided with certified translation into Bulgarian.

Upon receipt of all proxy voting documentation required, the meeting is usually physically attended and the results are sent out after its closure.

10. INCOME COLLECTION

10.1 Dividend payments

A decision to distribute dividends may only be made at the general meeting of shareholders. Public companies are allowed to pay annual and semi-annual dividends, if that option is stipulated in their by-laws. As a separate type of issuers, special investment purpose companies are obliged to distribute dividends no less than 90% of their financial year's adjusted profit (with adjustments including subsequent revaluation of real estate, transactions involving conveyance of title to real property, etc.).

Announcements The public company must immediately notify the FSC, CDAD and BSE about the decisions made at the shareholders meeting, specifying the type and amount of dividend and the dividend payment terms and procedures, including at least one financial institution through which the payments will be made.

Dating Conventions Investors registered in CDAD's records on the fourteenth day after the general meeting that approved the annual financial statements of the company and took a decision for profit distribution are entitled to receive dividends. Securities are always tradable.

The local legislation does not stipulate an exact payment date, it only determines the payment period. The company management determines the payment date subsequently and usually announces that through BSE and the information provider the public company has selected. Public issuers must ensure that the dividend is paid to the shareholders within 60 days after the annual general meeting. Special investment purpose companies are required to pay out their dividends within twelve months following the end of the respective financial year.

Payment Execution CDAD is responsible for payment of dividends distributed by public companies based on a legal agreement between CDAD and the issuer. CDAD provides a list of eligible investors to the issuer along with their entitled position. Then, the company applies the relevant withholding tax rate, defines the start date and pays out the funds to CDAD. In turn, CDAD distributes the amounts on a lump-sum basis to its participants and notifies them. Upon receipt of the funds and notifications, the participants distribute the dividend amounts to their clients. If a participant is unable to execute a payment in favour of any of its clients, it is obliged to return the funds to CDAD and subsequently the unpaid amounts are returned to the issuer.

10.2 Interest & Maturity Payments

Interest payment periods vary by issue, usually being quarterly, semi-annual or annual. Day count conventions also vary. Trades with government securities are permitted until 12:00 on the business day before the coupon or maturity payment date for government securities. Public issues are delisted from the BSE five business days before maturity unless a different term is provided in the prospectus or in the offering documents.

Announcements	Interest and maturity payment dates for public issues are defined in the prospectus for their public offering and BSE announces the payment dates. For non-public issues, payment dates are to be found in the proposal for their subscription according to the provisions of the Commerce Act. Payment dates for government securities are announced via SWIFT notifications and can also be obtained through the website of BNB.
Dating Conventions	The Record dates for interest and maturity payments vary by issue, the most common case being three business days before the payment date.
Payment Execution	For dematerialised corporate securities CDAD is usually responsible for payment of interest and maturity proceeds, based on a legal agreement between CDAD and the respective issuer. CDAD provides a list of eligible investors to the company. Then the company applies the relevant withholding tax rates, defines the start date for payments and pays out the funds to CDAD. In turn, CDAD pays out and notifies its participants. Upon receipt of the funds and the notifications, the participants distribute the amounts to their clients. If a participant is unable to execute a payment in favour of any of its clients, it is obliged to return the funds to the CDAD, and subsequently the unpaid amounts are returned to the issuer. There are also instances, where issuers may choose to execute payments directly to the eligible bondholders, usually applicable to non-public issuers. For government securities, BNB acts as the paying agent.

11. TAXATION

11.1 Withholding Tax

Withholding of local taxes is, in most cases, applied at source, i.e. issuers act as withholding agents and pay the tax to the budget. However, there are instances where the tax obligation lies with the beneficiary of the income - e.g., where the payer of the income is not a taxable person and with respect to income from transactions with financial instruments.

The tax authority of Bulgaria, the National Revenue Agency (NRA), administers a number of different taxes, among which are the personal income and corporate income taxes, the withholding taxes and the value added tax.

Tax Rates The standard tax rates applicable to foreign investors with respect to their investments in Bulgaria are as follows:

Type of Income	Tax Rate
Dividend	5%
Interest	10%

Relief at Source The Bulgarian Tax Insurance Procedure Code sets out the rules for application of Double Tax Treaties (DTT). According to the procedures, residents of DTT countries must obtain clearance from NRA to apply DTT rates, which can be achieved after filing a set of documents including a tax reclaim form, certificate of tax residence, declaration of beneficiary ownership of the income and other supporting documents. There are no unified requirements regarding the supporting documentation for tax relief applications.

For income based on long-term agreements or income paid to the same foreign investor (e.g., interest income from bonds), the tax reclaim form only needs to be submitted once. However, this provision does not apply to dividend payments. Eligible investors must submit a separate tax reclaim form for each dividend payment in order to obtain clearance.

NRA is to provide clearance for the DTT application within 60 days from receipt of the tax reclaim form and all the required supporting documents. If NRA does not reply within that period, it is considered to have provided tacit approval. A decision from the NRA for lack of eligibility to benefit from DTT rates is subject to appeal.

If the investor's amount of annual income received is less than BGN 500,000 (EUR 255,646), the documents proving the eligibility to apply DTT rates are not to be filed with NRA but with the income payer; in such cases, no tax reclaim form is submitted.

Tax Reliefs

A withholding tax is not applied to dividends and shares in a liquidation surplus distributed to non-resident legal entities residents for tax purposes in a Member State of the European Union or in another state which is a contracting party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area, with the exception of the cases of hidden profit distribution. To prove the above circumstances, issuers would usually require the beneficial owners to present a certificate of tax residence, issued by its domicile tax authorities. There are no unified documentation requirements in support of tax relief applications.

The withholding tax rate on income from interest payments is 0% for foreign investors meeting both of the following eligibility criteria:

- The beneficial owner of the income is a legal entity with residence or with a permanent establishment in the EU;
- The local payer of the income is a related party to the beneficiary, i.e. one of the entities holds at least 25% of the capital of the other entity for at least two consecutive years, or a third entity, which is a EU resident, holds at least 25% of the capital of both entities for at least two consecutive years.

Tax exemption can be applied even if the related party requirement has been valid for less than two consecutive years as of the income payment date. However, if it ceases to be satisfied before the expiration of two years, a recalculation of the withholding tax will be due and the standard withholding tax on income on interest will be applied.

The following tax exemptions are available to non-resident legal entities:

- No tax is withheld on interest income from debt securities issued by resident legal entities, municipalities or the State and admitted to trading on a regulated market in Bulgaria or in a member state of the European Union or in another state which is a contracting party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area (EU/EEA country).
- No tax is withheld on interest income from debt securities issued by a non-resident issuer when all of the below criteria are met:
 - The issuer is a resident for tax purposes in a EU/EEA country;
 - The issuer has issued the debt securities with the purpose of granting a loan to a resident legal entity;
 - The debt securities have been admitted trading on a regulated market in Bulgaria or in an EU/EEA country.

11.2 Capital Gains Tax

Income from transactions with financial instruments issued by resident legal persons, the Bulgarian State and the municipalities is taxable. The taxable amount on income from the disposition of financial instruments by non-resident legal entity is defined as the positive difference between the selling price and the documented cost of acquisition, with the latter being the cost of acquisition, which the person has documented according to the procedure established by the relevant statutory instruments.

11.5 Tax Reclamation Process

The same clearance procedure is applied with respect to DTT tax relief at source and tax reclaims. If clearance is obtained before the income is paid and before the tax is withheld at source, the foreign investor can benefit from relief at source. If clearance is obtained after the income is paid and the tax is withheld at source, the foreign investor will benefit from tax reclaim. There are no unified documentation requirements in support of tax relief/reclaim applications.

Eligible EU/EEA residents may apply on an annual basis for recalculation of withheld taxes. The recalculation is based on the corporate income tax on all realised income during the year. If the tax withheld at source is more than the recalculated amount of the tax, the difference can be reclaimed from the tax authorities provided that the claimant cannot deduct this amount from the payable tax in their home country.

12. DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

12.1 Obligations for Issuers

According to the Public Offering of Securities Act, Bulgarian resident issuers, who have issued securities that have been admitted for trading on a regulated market or offered via a public offering in Bulgaria, are obliged to disclose to the FSC and to the public, regulated and unregulated information including annual and quarterly financial statements, annual and quarterly consolidated financial statements, information on changes in shareholdings and information on acquisition or sale of own shares, etc. In addition, issuers with shares listed on BSE's Premium Segment are obliged to abide by the National Code for Corporate Governance, while all other issuers are encouraged to comply with the document and follow corporate governance best practices.

12.2 Obligations for Investors

The Public Offering of Securities Act requires shareholders to notify FSC and the public company each time when their voting rights (directly or indirectly) reach, exceed or fall below 5% or a multiple of 5% of the total number of votes. The shareholders must meet this obligation within four business days of the acquisition or disposal of the shares. CDAD is also obliged to report to FSC the 5% threshold changes in holdings of public companies. FSC may require foreign investment firms that hold shares in their own names but for the account of their clients to identify their clients within three business days of receiving a written request by FSC.

The disclosure limit for shareholders in insurance companies is 1% and every multiple of 1% of the shares. A holder of 10% or more of the voting shares of an insurance company must meet certain qualification criteria set out by the Insurance Code. Special permission is required before acquiring 20%, 30%, 50%, or more than 50% of the voting shares of an insurance company. If the acquisition is accomplished before obtaining the approval of FSC, the shareholder will not be allowed to vote with the shares until such approval is received.

An investor is to obtain approval from the FSC prior to acquiring, directly or indirectly, holdings which exceed, reach, or fall below 1/5, 1/3, or 1/2 of the capital or voting rights in an investment intermediary, management company, alternative investment fund management company or market operator. Failure to obtain prior approval from the FSC will result in loss of voting rights, unless the investor notifies the FSC within seven business days of acquiring the holdings and the FSC approves the acquisition.

CDAD is obliged to disclose to BNB all shareholders, the participation of which in a locally licensed credit institution reaches or exceeds 3% of the shares or voting rights of the issuer. Special permission must be obtained from BNB before acquiring 10%, 20%, 33% and 50% or more than 50% of the voting shares of a credit institution. Such preliminary approval is required also when the acquisition is made on a stock exchange or another regulated market. If the investor does not meet this obligation, BNB may oblige the shareholder to sell a part or all of its shares. Before receiving the approval, shareholders may not exercise their voting rights.

12.3 Violation Consequences

Failure to comply with disclosure requirements will lead to penalties and/or other sanctions as set out in the Public Offering of Securities Act and other relevant legislation.

13. ACCOUNT MANAGEMENT

13.1 Common Account Structures

Securities accounts can be opened either in the name of the beneficial owner or in the name of a foreign custodian. The following possibilities for account structures are available:

- An omnibus account for client assets in the name of the foreign custodian, or;
- Segregated securities accounts in the name of underlying clients or in the name of the foreign custodian for proprietary assets, or;
- A mixture of the above.

One cash account can be linked to multiple securities accounts.

Segregated Accounts

Segregated accounts are opened in the client's name in CDAD and in the books of the CDAD member.

With respect to government securities, participants maintain in BNB three types of accounts: an account for proprietary securities, an omnibus account for client securities and an account for encumbered/blocked securities. It is the obligation of the BNB participants to maintain segregated client securities accounts in their own books.

Nominee/Omnibus Accounts

The Markets in Financial Instruments Act recognises the nominee concept, but explicit regulations on taxation, corporate actions and disclosure on omnibus accounts are not in place. Following the implementation of CDAD's new IT system at the end of February 2016, omnibus accounts are recognised by the CSD and visible in shareholders'/bondholders' books.

13.2 KYC/AML Requirements

Bulgarian regulations related to anti-money laundering include the following:

- Measures Against Money Laundering Act - Defines the measures to prevent the use of the country's financial system for the purposes of money laundering and the supervision and control over these measures; the supervising authority is the Financial Intelligence Directorate of the State Agency for National Security.
- Measures Against Financing of Terrorism Act - Defines the measures for detecting and preventing any acts that may lead to financing of terrorist activities; supervising bodies are the Minister of Interior, the Minister of Finance and the Chairman of the State Agency for National Security.
